Welcome news

TUSINESS and industrial D circles will welcome the news that an information to our Agent's office in London. It may seem that the need for one has largely disappeared with the absence of serious criticism recently, but it would be rash to believe that either Hongkong exports or labour conditions, to cite only two points of controversy, now give cause for complete satisfaction in Britain.

Mr '-Grimwood, the Hongkong agent; has done a firstclass job defending us in recent years. His last and most memorable letter dealing with the ends to which nappies are put, was a classic. But publicity is not really his job. It is one of those things that has been forced upon him. An experienced newsman with good contacts should be a great help to the Agent and make a considerable difference to our publicity. Hongkong cannot afford to allow wrong impressions to take root anywhere. But nowhere is this more important than in Britain.

Blind eye

THE Reform Club and the Civic Association have declared their intention of raising a number Colony problems in their talks forthcoming London with Mr MacLeod, subject missing was the question of the Naval lands and the $112 million the local Government has to pay for them. Hongkong has even had to spend : $188,000 to build a new wall for the Dockyard.

There might be no objection to this at all if the Admiralty had agreed upon a reasonable figure for the land. After all it is land which the Navy no longer needs. The dockyard's activities have been greatly curtailed in recent months and the size of the Far East fleet no longer justifies such a large base. The joint delegation to London should point to the contrast between the deal the Army concluded and the one forced upon Hongkong by the Admiralty. One clearly took into reckoning the burden of Hongkong's problems. The other apparently turned a Nelsonian blind eye to them.

PANIC SPREADS IN KATANGA

Natives total war on UN troops

From RICHARD KILIAN

Elizabethville, Aug. 3.

Belgian residents began a new exodos from the Congo tonight as Katanga swore to wage total war including guerilla warfare against United Nations troops arriving on Saturday.

As I telephone the city is on p a razer edge of panic with radio messages going out to native chieftains in the bush ordering them to prepare warriors for battle.

Simultaneously the general mobilisation of all natives into the Katanga Army is starting. Few people will sleep tonight in Katanga, black or white.

The panic has grown before my eyes all day as the news spread of the United Nations

Nobody here can understand how UNO can come here withtut first sending observers. Even the Belgian advisers are frightened men.

Mr Tshombe can count on less than 1,000 soldiers including many raw recruits who were rushed into training by Belgian officers two weeks ago to create the Katanga Army.

By OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

After a "difference of opinion - a clash of personalities" which led to his resignation, 44-year-old former royal butler Cronin left London yesterday for a rest in the country.

Cronin who had been in the service since he was fourteen had reached the top of his profession when he was appointed butler to Princess Margaret and Tony Armstrong-Jones.

"Now," he says, "I am going to forget all about my 25 days at Kensington Palace and the only position I have left in unfortunate circumstances. I have heard some rumours that Mr Armstrong-Jones and I exchanged blows.

"I have been in my job far too long to allow such a thing to happen.

"I went to Kensington Palace on July 4—Independence Day. And I have always maintained my independent position. The job has to be done in a firm and strict manner according to the way I have always worked. This was not the case in that job. "I was not allowed to employ any staff, even a charwoman. I didn't pay them their wages and many other matters were not left in my hands as they should have been.

"Mr Jones—I always called him sir, he doesn't like to be called Mr Jones—did all this himself."

Cronin wiped his brow with an immaculate handkerchief. He said: "There were differences of opinion, a clash of personalities. This led to a climax and I have taken the only course left to me-out of Kensington Palace.

"To my mind there is only one person to whom a new employee should be responsible—the butler."— London Express Service.

Sylvia Kwik, runaway daughter of a wealthy Chinese businessman, married Pandelis Papa Lazarou, a Greek Cypriot, in Scotland last Friday, the High Court was told here today.

The elopement of the 18-yearold girl and her 23-year-old sweetheart ended on a happy note with the judge discharging legal injunctions against them, and the girl's parents wishing them a long and happy marriage.

Sylvia, daughter of Mr James Tjoe Bink Kwik, disappeared about six weeks ago at the same time as Lazarou, a male nurse.

VALID

Counsel for Mr Kwik said the girl's parents were satisfied the marriage was valid.

He said that after Sylvia's disappearance in June, the High Court made an order forbidding Lazarou from associating with Sylvia and forbidding their marriage.

But the girl's parents did not wish to be vindictive and would not press the motion to commit Lazarou to prison for contempt

"Mr and Mrs Kwik feel that their duties as parents are at an end and they hope that the marriage will be long and happy. The responsibility for that is now her husband's and not theirs." counsel said. Counsel for Lazarou said Sylvia was made a ward of the court on May 28, but nothing further was done, and the order lapsed on June 27, when they

Verwoerd's policy on republic

Sir De Villiers Graaf, Parliamentary leader of South Africa's opposition United Party, today denounced Prime Minister, Dr Hendrik Verwoerd's referendum on a republic as reckless.

Dr Verwoerd announced earlier in Pretoria that South African citizens will vote on October 5 on whether this country should become a republic.

Speaking at, his Cape Town home Sir De Villiers said: is now clear that the Prime Minister is determined recklessly to involve South Africa in this bitter republican controversy at a time when all the peoples of our nation should be united as never before and when there is still a state of emergency over a large portion of South Africa.

12-YEAR-OLD MICHAEL tax rebate for son

London, Aug. 3. A recent High Court test case decision on income tax and school fees made 12year-old Michael Cheetham better off to the tune of £61 Os. 5d. — money owed to him by the Inland Revenue.

He is Mr J. A. - Cheetham, head of the Dyes, Pharmaceuti-, cals and Fibres section.

The decision, which will be thousands was given by Justice Cross, in an action over £27,000-a-year trust set up by Imperial Chemical Industries to help educate the children of their overseas embloyees.

The judge's ruling: Money so paid becomes the income of the child and not his father. This means that unless the child has a large income of his own, he can get back all the tax which has been paid at

£143 BILL

It was said that the scheme was started in 1957 because of the difficulty of obtaining good men to work overseas.

The arrangement was that the riees, less tax, would be paid direct into a banking account in the child's name. The child would then pay the school bill through his parent or guardian.

In Michael's case the bill for one term was £143. He actually received £82, the other £61 being deducted as tax. But as a single person resident in this country, he would be entitled to allowances, and would be able to get all that back.

Mr Justice Cross said that while it was true that I.C.I. did not institute the scheme ou, of disinterested benevolence, that
